

CLOSET COUNSEL

Let Market Director Lindsay Huggins solve your style dilemmas.

Q I'm so ready to wear my summer shoes, but it's still too cold! Please tell me I don't have to wait for beach weather?

You're in luck: Thin socks look cute with almost every shoe. The combo is especially flattering with midskirts and Bermuda shorts. To look stylish, not childish, opt for short socks (just above the ankle)—and nothing ruffled, ruffled, or folded over, please.

Faux Suede Brogues, $28, Forever 21.

Q My closet is 50% gym gear. Is there any way to wear activewear to work without looking like I just wandered out of Crunch?

Designers have got you covered with a fresh crop of rash guards. Originally intended for surfers, they look sporty-chic with boyfriend jeans or high-waisted skirts. I like mine with culottes—edgy, yet work-appropriate. (Bonus: When your friend talks you into surfing lessons, you'll know exactly what to wear!)

Cropped Rashguard, $72, Nanette Lepore

Strappy Back Rashguard, $118, Free People x Beach Riot

Pop Surf Optic Nature Long Sleeve Rash-guard, $48, Roxy

Abalone Large Sunburst Pendant, $80, House of Harlow

Sacred Pendant, $215, Pamela Love

POP-UP SHOP ALERT!

Petite Acorn Pendant, $85, Julie Vos

Q I don't do color. How can I feel springy without piling on the pastels?

Two words: pendant necklaces. They were the jewelry trend to beat on the spring-summer runways. I love that they evoke the '70s while still feeling timeless. Add a gold or silver chain to a black dress and it'll look completely different from the LBD you wore the day before. Try them with simple necklines—the necklace looks best without competition.

Shop Julie Vos's jewelry IRL at the Web-based brand's first pop-up shop, open this month only at 501 Lexington Avenue.
